"One of a kind for Hawai'i and quite possibly for other parts of the world, too."

"...a world class museum. It makes me very proud to have this right here in Hilo."

"Education should always be this interesting."

"Imiloa keeps expanding my understanding of what's around me."

From the Keiki

"I felt like I was flying through space and catching a star."

"I learned that the navigators used the stars, sun, moon, birds, and the ocean currents to help find land and that the Hawaiian canoe plants were used to make food and medicine."

"I want to know how to be an astronaut."

"I learned that there are 6,000 stars I can see."

"I have just one question. When WILL the sun run out of fuel?"

Nu'ukia: the Mission of 'Imiloa
To celebrate Hawaiian culture and Maunakea astronomy sharing with the world an inspiring example of science and culture united to advance knowledge, understanding and opportunity.
